MONUMENT AND PUBLIC ART POLICY

This policy is designed to allow for the managed placement of monuments, memorials and public pieces of art in Traverse City parks and public spaces. The intent of this policy is to provide a structured procedure for the review of the proposal and the subsequent placement of items in parks and other City property (excluding road rights-of-way and alleys). Monuments will be limited to events and groups of historic or local significance and will be limited in total size, including base, to four feet wide, three feet tall and one foot deep.

Monument-free areas on specific monument zones may be designated by the City Commission to protect natural features or the character of a park or public area.

Requests for proposed items will first be reviewed by the Parks and Recreation Commission followed by the City Commission with opportunity at both levels for public input.

1. Monument and Public Art Review Process.

A. Review Criteria:

The Parks and Recreation Commission will consider several factors before making a recommendation. These will include but not be limited to:

1. Location, develop list of possible locations.
2. Character of area.
3. Safety factors to pedestrians, park users, motorists.
4. Size of item versus area of proposed installation.
5. Proximity and density of other monuments and/or public art.
6. Blocking of view corridors to bay or other significant natural features.
7. Appropriateness of item for public display.
8. Impact on park and public land usage.

The types of proposed installations to be sent to the Commission would be monuments of historic or local significance recommended by individuals, groups or organizations, and public art pieces. Items to be reviewed only by City Staff would be trees and landscape features, benches, tables, play equipment, drinking fountains, or other simple public improvements.

B. Recommendation Process:

At the conclusion of a favorable review process by the Parks and Recreation Commission, a recommendation to approve the proposed installation would be made to the City Commission. If there were no support from the Parks and Recreation Commission, at the request of the applicant, the request would be forwarded to the City Commission.

C. Upkeep of Monuments and Public Art:

As part of the approval process, the individual or group proposing the installation shall enter into an agreement with the City to provide the necessary financial and/or physical resources to keep the monument or art piece in good condition.

If the monument or public art is damaged due to vandalism, storm, vehicular accidents, or various acts of God, the party responsible for installation of the piece will be responsible to repair or replace it in such a manner and time period deemed acceptable by the City. If the group is unable or unwilling to make the needed repair or replacement, the City may remove the item with no responsibility to repair or replace the item.

D. Public Recognition of the Item Installed:

A small plaque or other identification method may be placed on or near the item as space allows. The size, type and location of such recognition is subject to review by the Parks and Recreation Commission and the City Commission. The recognition could indicate by whom the item is being donated, or in whose honor or memory the item is being donated.

I hereby certify that the above Policy was adopted by the Traverse City City Commission at its regular meeting held on January 6, 2003, in the Commission Chambers, Governmental Center, 400 Boardman Avenue, Traverse City, Michigan.

Good Morning Everyone,

After some checking, it has been determined that the area in mind for placing the Coast Guard monument is considered parkland. Therefore, this project needs to go before the Parks & Recreation Commission before the City Commission.

I will be forwarding all renderings and site plan materials to Lauren Vaughn, Parks & Recreation Supervisor to tentatively include in the February 6th Parks & Recreation Commission packet. This meeting will be held at 6:30 PM in the 2nd Floor Commission Chambers, everyone is encouraged to attend. I will be sure to let you know if this date changes.

Take note that this has been rescheduled to go before the City Commission on February 10 at 7:00 PM in the 2nd Floor Commission Chambers rather than the previous mentioned date in January.

For your informational purposes, below you will find a link to the Monument and Public Art Policy which was adopted by the City Commission some time ago. This should help give and overview of the process we will follow to complete this project.

The City of Traverse City

TO: Parks and Recreation Commissioners

FROM: Lauren A. Vaughn, Parks and Recreation Superintendent

RE: Superintendent's Report

DATE: January 31, 2014

As of today, the ski season is going well at Hickory with both attendance and revenue slightly ahead of last year. All three ice rinks are open for public skating.

I hope that all of you that attended the MRPA conference learned some things about the profession and what some other communities are doing. I am looking forward to you giving a short verbal report on the sessions that you attended and any other observations from the conference.

The Hickory Hills master plan is moving along. There will be a public workshop on Thursday, February 20 from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m. at the Governmental Center 2nd floor Training Room. We will need some volunteers to host some stations around the workshop. Hope some of you can help. There will be training on how to be station hosts from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. that day.

See you Thursday, February 6th.

TO: Park and Recreation Commissioners

FROM: Lauren A. Vaughn, Parks and Rec. Sup't.
